My Dream is to become a doctor. It is not only my dream but also my parent too. I don't wish to be the wealthiest and most graduated doctor the world's ever seen but I want to be one who will serve her people and country in a true manner. In fact I don't want to be for only patients but also for the needy too. Although I know that, isn't everyone's cup of tea to be faithful, humane and achieving great degrees at the same time but it is worth try.

I always want to feel the pride of being loyal to my patients and my duty. Well it's not the same story from the beginning, in fact it was totally different. When I was a little girl, all I used to think was becoming a writer. Of course that was a dream for me which I wished to come true. It included of me writing silly things. But soon my dream changed, I grew up and came to know my real destiny. Although I showed interest in studies and writing. I grew up to know where I belong and started to concentrate on it. But for now, I have a different dream and that is to become a doctor.
