Life is about striving. Everyone wants to aim to achieve something that gives us purpose and happiness. I believe it is important to reflect from time to time about our individual life purpose.

The world is always changing and new opportunities are always opening. I am a student in high school and it is the time to start deciding what path of life I am going to take. There are so many options nowadays and it is hard to choose. So many people tell me to do this or to do that. But the only profession, which attracted me is the medical profession. Right from my childhood, the lives of eminent medical professionals have charmed my imagination. There I see the golden opportunity to serve humanity. Fascinating medical profession being has always made me curious. Also, medical profession is a profession that influence the growth of an individual through experiences.

One of my biggest motivations to choose medical profession is to serve and care the sick and suffering in different parts of India. Even my parents, friends and teachers have supported me to go ahead with my aspiration.

I only pray to God that my desire be fulfilled and that I become competent enough to act up to cherish my goal in my life and there by do selfless service to the suffering.
